Subject: Beyond Science and Decisions: From Problem Formulation to Dose Response

Dear Colleagues

Please welcome the Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry as our 46th collaborator. The contact person is Dr. Moiz Mumtaz. The current list of 46 sponsors and collaborators includes 12 government agencies, 11 industry groups, 7 scientific societies, 8 non-profit organizations/consortia, and 8 CONSULTING GROUPS:

- Academy of Toxicological Sciences
- Agency for Toxic Substances and Disease Registry
- American Chemistry Council
- American Petroleum Institute
- American Water Works Association
- Center for Food Safety and Applied Nutrition (US Food and Drug Administration)
- CONSORTIUM FOR ENVIRONMENTAL RISK MANAGEMENT, LLC (CERM)
- CropLife America
- Dose Response Specialty Group (Society for Risk Analysis)
- ENVIRON
- Georgia Department of Natural Resources (EPD)
- Georgia Pacific
- GRADIENT
- Hamner Institutes
- Hawai'i Department of Health (HEER)
- Human Toxicology Project Consortium
- Illinois Environmental Protection Agency
- Indiana Department of Environmental Management
- INDUSTRIAL ECONOMICS, INCORPORATED
- International Copper Association
- International Society of Regulatory Toxicology and Pharmacology
- The LifeLine Group
- Mickey Leland National Urban Air Toxics Research Center
- Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (Environmental Analysis & Outcomes Division)
- Naphthalene Council
- National Center for Toxicological Research
- New Zealand Ministry of Health
- Nickel Producers Environmental Research Association
- Noblis
- NSF International
- Ohio Environmental Protection Agency
- PASTOR, BEHLING & WHEELER, LLC
- Regulatory and Safety Evaluation Specialty Section (Society of Toxicology)
- Risk Assessment Specialty Section (Society of Toxicology)

- SAPPHIRE GROUP
- SC Johnson & Son
- Society for Risk Analysis
- Society of Toxicology
- SUMMIT TOXICOLOGY
- TED SIMON, LLC
- Texas Association of Business
- Texas Chemical Council
- Texas Commission on Environmental Quality
- Texas Industry Project
- Toxicology Excellence for Risk Assessment
- U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

With financial support from Health Canada

As previously mentioned, we recommend that our workshop series be continued with the formation of a standing science panel that would meet twice a year to address additional case studies that are relevant to the problem-method-decision matrix (<http://www.allianceforrisk.org/workshop/framework/problemformulation.html>). The standing science panel would also review white papers associated with risk assessment issues that need resolution. As before, the submission of case studies and white papers would be open to all interested parties. We would highly value your suggestions for additional case studies and for risk issues in need of resolution.

Sincerely,

Dose Response Advisory Committee,

Rick Becker, American Chemistry Council
 Michael Dourson, Toxicology Excellence for Risk Assessment
 Julie Fitzpatrick, Environmental Protection Agency
 Roberta Grant, Texas Commission on Environmental Quality
 Mike Honeycutt, Texas Commission on Environmental Quality
 Lynne Haber, Toxicology Excellence for Risk Assessment
 Lynn Pottenger, The Dow Chemical Company
 Jennifer Seed, Environmental Protection Agency
